It is NECCO Security Co. Inc.'s policy that Fire Alarm System & Electronic system "master" level programming passwords are not released to the end-user or personnel working with the end-user during a period of one year from date of initial start up and acceptance, and during any period that the system is under any type of contract with NECCO Security Co. Inc. After a period of one year from date of initial start up and acceptance, the end-user may submit in writing (below) a request to have programming passwords changed back to factory default at the expense of the end-user.

This is to assure programming stability and integrity.

This shall serve as official notice that I, _____(Print Name)_____ on behalf of the owner (_____(Print Name)_____) request that NECCO Security Co. Inc. relinquishes

the master-level programming code for the fire alarm system at _____(Location Address)_____, and set the master level code back to factory default. I understand that by doing so, NECCO Security Co. Inc. and its affiliates retain the right to void any warranty(s) and certification(s) on any component of the system and cannot and will not be held liable for any damages relating to loss of life or property at the location listed above. I also understand that it is the responsibility of the new vendor to completely test and re-certify the system at this time, in compliance with NFPA 72 or other applicable codes or standards. I thereby request that NECCO Security Co. Inc. dispatches a technician to make necessary programming adjustments to set the code back to factory default and agree to pay the service charge incurred.
